THE STATE'S YEARLY INCOME.

Valuable Information in Report of Receipts Made to the Legislature.

In reply to the request of the legislative committee on appropriations, State Treasurer Hodge has sent to Senator Lee, chairman of the committee, a detailed statement of the receipts of the state treasury for sixteen years, 1879 to 1894. The aggregate in each year prior to 1870 was: 1879, $1,534,288.48; 1880, 1,666,651.21; 1881, $1,722,160.01; 1882, $1,720,438.21; 1883, $1,617,800.04; 1884, $1,545,959.87; 1885, (seven months), $412,767.75; 1886, $1,813,701.78; 1887, $2,021,819.26; 1888, $1,901,270.72; 1889, $1,923,894.16.

In 1890, the last year, a state tax was levied, and each year since, the receipts have been as follows: 1890, $2,361,202.84, of which $254,557.45 was a state tax; 1891, $1,843,913.71; 1892, (fifteen months), $2,159,289.25; 1893, $2,290,952.26; 1894, $1,912,138.52.

Treasurer Hodge says: The "state tax on towns" was at the rate of 1½ mills on the dollar in 1879, 1880, 1881, and at the rate of 1¼ mills in 1882, 1883 and 1884. As the fiscal year was made to end June 30th in 1885, in stead of November 30th, as had been previously required, no state tax appears that year. In 1886 this tax was 1¼ mills, but in 1887 was 2 mills owing to large appropriations for state prison and other objects. In 1888 and 1889 it was 1¼ mills and in 1890 this tax made its farewell at the rate of 1 mill on the dollar. This tax has been mid since then, but the treasurer was authorized to suspend its collection and it has not been collected since that year. The grand list of 1893 was $416,323,252, and a tax of 1 mill would produce over $416,000.

Mutual life insurance companies paid a tax of ½ of 1 percentum in 1879, 1880 and 1881, and 3-8 of 1 percentum in 1882, and 3-10 of 1 percentum in 1883, while since that date only ¼ of 1 percentum has been imposed on them.

Amounts in various years of different taxes have been delayed in collection and thus the tax seems larger or smaller from such tax according to the year of receipt.

The "miscellaneous" receipts for 1893 are swollen by the sum of $261,981.90, which was the direct tax from the United States government, and by the further sum of $60,942.41 received from Honorable Morgan C. Bulkeley, being certain moneys received and disbursed by him while the deadlock was in existence.

The "collateral inheritance tax" was amended in 1893 by exempting brothers and sisters from its operations, and the result is seen in a reduction of about one-half in 1894 from this source, while the results of the late times are in evidence in the amounts received from the "investment tax" in the years 1893 and 1894.

While not included in your inquiry, I have thought perhaps you might wish to know that in 1903 state bonds amounting to $1,500,000 would become due and that in 1910 another issue of $1,740,000 would mature, and that no provisions have been made for the payment of either issue. It would seem that both of these issues might be paid at maturity without burdening the people with new forms of taxation if strict economy in making appropriations could be secured until they were all paid, and thus an annual saving of $104,700 made in the amount of interest paid on our bonded indebtedness.

THE LATE PATRICK DOYLE.

The Funeral Services at St. Francis Church To-morrow—Action By the Board of Public Works.

At 12 o'clock yesterday noon the board of public works held a special meeting, called by the president of the board, for the purpose of taking action upon the death of Patrick Doyle, who for so many years has held one of the most important positions in the department. Those present were Commissioners States, Bishop, G. M. Grant and N. B. Hoyt. Senator Johnson was unavoidably absent, being in attendance at the legislature, and also Commissioner McGinn, who is out of town.

Commissioner States introduced the following resolutions which were afterwards unanimously adopted:

Whereas, This board has received the sad intelligence of the death of Patrick Doyle, late superintendent of streets, Resolved, That the board receive with sorrow the announcement of the sudden demise of Mr. Doyle, who for a period of eighteen years has held the responsible position of superintendent of streets with marked ability. His long service, ability and experience coupled with his personal qualities have endeared him to the individual members of the board, and we mourn his loss.

Resolved, That we hereby recognize his past services and worth, as a public officer in one of its chief and most responsible positions, as a just tribute to his memory.

Resolved, That the public has sustained a great loss in the removal from the stage of action one who was zealous in the discharge of his duties, and faithful to the trusts reposed in him. His devotion to the city was always consistent with its best interests and progress. He was accurate in his intuitions, thorough in his investigation and sound in judgment; his integrity of character was unspotted, and his social qualities delightful.

Resolved, That in recognizing the hand of affliction in the death of Mr. Doyle, we deeply sympathize with his family in the dispensation which it has pleased Almighty God to visit upon them.

Resolved, That the foregoing resolutions be entered on the minutes of this board and a copy forwarded to the family of the deceased.

Remarks eulogistic to the late Mr. Doyle were made by Mayor Hendrick, Commissioners States, Grant, Bishop and Hoyt, and by City Engineer C. W. Kelly, Clerk N. M. Bassett, Assistant Superintendent G. L. Ives, Sidewalk Inspector J. J. Brennan and W. E. Thompson, the official record searcher.

It was voted to attend the funeral in a body and to invite ex-Commissioners H. W. Crawford, R. H. Brown, James Kelly, William Maley, T. A. Todd, T. H. Sullivan and W. J. Atwater to attend the services with them. It was also voted to send a floral tribute.

Mayor Hendrick was requested to assume control of the street department pending further action of the board. The funeral services will be held on Thursday morning with services at the late residence and at St. Francis church at 9:30 o'clock.

A special meeting of the board will be held this evening and another on next Monday evening. At the Monday evening session it is likely that a successor to the late Mr. Doyle will be chosen.

THE FIRST GRAVE.

An Interesting Letter Regarding Naugatuck's First Cemetery.

The Rev. E. S. Lines, rector of St. Paul's church this city, recently sent the Waterbury American the following interesting historical letter regarding Hillside cemetery:

Those who travel between Waterbury and Naugatuck will remember Hillside cemetery, upon the east of the river, midway between Union City and Naugatuck. It has been in this century the burial ground most used by the people of the town.

It will interest many of your readers to know that the first grave was made in the cemetery March 9, 1795, just one hundred years ago. It is the grave of a little child, Harvey Stevens, and is still marked.

Deacon Elisha Stevens, father of the child, who lived upon the river road at the corner where the road turns in north of the cemetery, owned the brow of the hill, and there this little grave was made. He gave the neighbors the privilege of burying their dead there beside his own. So the cemetery, which has been extended until it has become the great city of the dead, had its beginning. There the bodies of three generations of townpeople have been laid to rest, and the river sings beside them an unbroken requiem. Those who go back to the town after a few years' absence find themselves strangers upon the busy streets, and at home as they read the names inscribed upon the stones in the cemetery.

The little child, whose grave was the first in the burial yard, had lived less than a year. His twin brother, Herchel Stevens, lived to old age and left many descendants, who are still alive in New Haven county. The descendants of Deacon Elisha Stevens are many in number and widely scattered.

The late Professor Edwin E. Johnson, rector of St. Michael's church thirty years ago, made Naugatuck people familiar with a little poem of Miss Rose Terry Cook's. It was suggested by the relation as regards position of some other village and burial yard. But the cemetery upon the hill, the flowing beside both, the forest behind, made Naugatuck people feel that the poem was written for them:

THE TWO VILLAGES.

Over the river on the hill
 Lieth a village white and still;
 All around it the forest trees
 Shiver and whisper in the breeze;
 Over it sailing shadows go
 Of soaring hawk and screaming crow,
 And mountain grasses, low and sweet,
 Grow in the middle of every street.

Over the river under the hill
 Another village lieth still;
 There I see in the cloudy night
 Twinkling stars of household light,
 Fires that gleam from the smithy's door,
 Mists that curl on the river's shore;
 And in the roads no grasses grow,
 For the wheels that hasten to and fro.

In that village on the hill
 Never is sound of smithy or mill,
 The houses are thatched with grass and flowers;
 Never a clock to tell the hours;
 The marble doors are always shut;
 You may not enter at hall or hut;
 All the village lieth asleep;
 Never a grain to sew or reap;
 Never in dreams to roam or sigh,
 Silent and idle and low they lie.

In that village under the hill
 When the night is starry and still,
 Many a weary soul in prayer
 Looks to the outer village there,
 And whispering and sighing, long to go
 Up to that home, from this below;
 Long to sleep by the forest wild,
 With her vanished wife and child,
 And hark, praying, this answer fall—
 "Patience! That village shall hold ye all."
